

WINTER FARMERS MARKET - FIDDLEHEADS BIRTHDAY, 2/4/12

Four Mile River Farm - Our cattle are pasture-raised, grazing on local open pasture. In the winter months when grasses are sparse, they feed on hay from our fields and all-vegetarian corn silage and grain. Our pigs are housed in open pens and are grain and milk fed. Our eggs come from free-range chickens that enjoy a rich natural diet.

MUSIC SCHEDULE - FIDDLEHEADS 4TH BIRTHDAY

9:15 - 10:15 - Kay Pere

Internationally known singer/songwriter, Kay Pere, kicks off Fiddleheads Food Co-op's birthday celebration with an hour of original solo piano-propelled folk/pop. She delivers well-crafted lyrics, soaring melodies and innovative chordal harmonies to portray experiences and emotions we all can embrace.

10:15 - 11:15 - Pat Daddona and Mike Ball

Pat Daddona's original folk music encompasses love, loss and a little luck with perhaps a few too many minor chords. If she had her wish, it would evoke the best of Janis Ian, Kris Delmhorst, Lui Collins and Tracy Chapman, with Gordon Lightfoot, Jim Croce and Jackson Browne thrown in for good measure. Pat will be backed up by Mike Ball on guitar, with Mike performing some of his songs.

11:15 - 12:00 - Hugh Birdsall

Hugh Birdsall, a member of local New London bands, the Reducers and DogBite, plays and sings an eclectic mix of folk, blues, alt. country and rockabilly. Some of his own songs are part of the mix and span the same range.

12:00 - 1:00 - Noah Feldman

1:00 - 1:30 - Remarks by Guest, Richard Virgin - Cutting the Cakes

1:30 - 2:15 - Arlene Wow

2:15 - 3:00 - John Wood

Early on, Woody loved to play for his boys, Eric and Kyle. With help from Hugh Birdsall and Jim Fitzgerald, he has a CD "Night Visions" that is his "ego" trip of original folk music. Recent influences include artists John Gorka and Leonard Cohen. Most of Woody's songs are an attempt to reflect on human issues with the only real answer being love. Many thanks go to his friend Sherry Stidfole and her encouraging passion for music.

3:00 - 4:00 - Gaetano Patalano

"I love to sing Jim Croce and Cat Stevens will slip in a few of what I call Punchy Blues I do a version of Take Easy by the Eagles. Will play an original or two. I can also play a few classic 60s tunes."

4:00 - 5:00 - Robin St. Pierre

"We do mostly 70's music, John Denver, Jim Croce, Beatles, James Taylor, Elton John, etc."
